Dangers of Chemical Abortions:

A brave woman recently talked about her experience with a chemical abortion to the Supreme Court and gave an interview with The Daily Signal. Elizabeth Gillette remembers taking the pills alone in her bathroom. She told the reporter that “I found myself on the bathroom floor, covered in a pool of blood, wondering if I was going to survive the procedure, completely alone.” Elizabeth Gillette “reached down and lifted out of my body the perfectly formed transparent sac with a recognizable baby inside.” This women not only suffered physical consequences of these drugs, but also emotional consequences. She recalls, “no one told me that I would hold my child in my hands and would need to decide what to do with that body.”

What's Happening?

Since the Special Election vote in August 2023 and reflecting on the disappointing results, which placed abortion in the Ohio Constitution, one must contemplate what's next. Even though we lost that battle, the FIGHT goes on. Why continue? Because women and babies' lives are precious. They are worth it! You see it really does not matter if abortion is in Ohio's Constitution or not if NO women will walk through the doors of an abortion clinic or if NO women will take the chemical abortion pills; then why would we even need an abortion industry. Women and babies will be finally protected. Planned Parenthood has lied to women, has killed many babies, and destroyed many lives either physically, emotionally and/or both, and that is a travesty that must be stopped! There must be another voice letting women know there are other options than killing their precious baby and putting their own lives in danger.

You can read Elizabeth's full story on Life News. "Chemical abortions are four times as dangerous as surgical abortions for the mother." These women do not have to be under the care of a physician. If there are complications during the abortion there is no help for the mother or the baby.

What is a Chemical Abortion:

To conduct a chemical abortion a women will take two different pills. The first being mifepristone, which will allow the pregnancy to cease. Then she will take misoprostol, which will start contractions expelling the baby. These pills can be taken to end a pregnancy of up to 10 weeks' gestation. It is recorded that chemical abortions make up half of all the abortions in the United States. In my opinion, this is a staggering statistic. The goal of pro-choice advocates is to complete the abortion in the comfort and security of the mother's home or safe place. However, what was a safe place ends up being a haunting experience as these women are often completely alone. Since the FDA gave the green light for these chemical abortions to be done without the supervision of a physician, and now Walgreens and CVS providing these drugs to women who seek them. It is imperative that women understand quickly the dangers and life-long consequences of this decision.
